High Standards and Attention to Detail on Every Project

Wilson Electric Services Corp. is an award-winning electrical contractor with a passion for results. We have been serving the Southwest since 1968, with a long history of using innovation to make our work better, faster and more efficient, never compromising on safety or quality.

We are a full-service electrical contractor with expertise that spans the entire lifecycle of a building. Our 57 years of hands-on knowledge helps turn ideas into practical solutions. We have the knowledge and the experience to customize solutions to meet the specific needs of our clients.

Wilson Electric Services Corp. has two distinct divisions to offer clients one single source for premier electrical solutions.

Wilson Electric is one of the Southwest's largest electrical experts. We can help with any size project, from the smallest service call to the largest complex electrical and special systems project.

While we provide an array of electrical contracting services, we are often requested for large, fast track, highly technical projects. These projects require high levels of planning, coordination and communication by a skilled workforce.

Netsian Technologies Group integrates full scope low-voltage electrical systems to interact as one highly complex master system: fire alarm, access control, security, IP video solutions, building automation, telecommunications, audio visual and network cabling.

Services

Wilson Electric Services Corp is organized to provide continuous services to our clients. From design and preconstruction to construction and service. What sets us apart is our ability to provide a complete integration of electrical and special system packages from solar solutions to energy management options. It is this innovative approach to business and commitment to our customers that has made us the Southwest's premier, single-source provider of total facilities solutions.

At Wilson Electric Services Corp we are driven everyday by one simple fact... Relationships are among the most important things we build.

We have built a reputation for exceptional customer service, reliability and cost effectiveness. Our culture of mutual respect, trust, integrity and open communication is not just a project management approach, it is our operational philosophy.
